

Supply Chain Manager – Strategic Sourcing

Burnaby, BC

Are you a skilled procurement professional seeking leadership in a fast-paced manufacturing environment? Our client is seeking a Supply Chain Manager—Strategic Sourcing to take charge of procurement, including supplier relationships and cost optimization, for a company that produces high-quality food products.

As a key leadership team member, you'll be responsible for developing and executing procurement strategies, managing supplier contracts, and ensuring the seamless flow of raw materials to support production. You'll collaborate with internal teams, oversee logistics, and drive efficiency in supply chain operations.

What You Will Do in This Role:

- Develop and implement procurement strategies to optimize costs, quality, and supply chain efficiency
- Create KPI, systems and processes to measure and monitor the performance of the supply chain group.
- Negotiate and manage supplier contracts for key raw materials and packaging
- Forecast inventory needs and align procurement with production schedules
- Maintain strong relationships with domestic and international suppliers
- Oversee inbound and outbound logistics, including freight and customs processes
- Ensure compliance with regulatory and quality standards
- Lead and mentor the procurement team, driving continuous improvement

Requirements:

- 5+ years of strategic sourcing experience, with at least 3 years in a leadership role
- Strong negotiation and supplier relationship management skills
- Experience working with international suppliers and import/export processes
- Knowledge of procurement software and inventory management systems
- Excellent analytical, organizational, and problem-solving skills
- Bachelor's degree in business, Supply Chain Management, or an SCMP designation.

Compensation $110 to $130k salary, plus bonus and benefits.
